Please describe briefly the cluster you have chosen to fulfill that requirement? Describe briefly how that cluster fits with your own interests in WGS.

The cluster I have chosen is focused on European women and their history. This relates to my interests in women's and gender studies as I find women's history and the history of feminism fascinating. In addition, I found that the theory and methodology classes were extremely helpful in guiding analysis in this subject.

Describe the topic you have chosen for your annotated bibliography and tell us how it relates to your cluster concentration.

My annotated bibliography was on the late nineteenth century gender debate as it appeared in women's magazines. This relates to my cluster because it is a topic that deals with European women and their history, specifically with British women, the subject of two of my concentration classes.
